GR Gambling Laws and Regulatory Framework in Greece

1. Foundational Legal Structure

The regulation of gambling activities in Greece is governed by national law under the supervision of the Hellenic Gaming Commission (HGC). Greek law permits licensed land-based and online gambling operations, provided they meet strict compliance standards regarding licensing, consumer protection, and responsible gaming.

Key provisions include:

- All gambling operations require a license issued by the HGC.
- Land-based casinos must operate in approved locations and meet facility regulations.
- Online gambling operators must be registered and taxed in Greece.
- Gambling advertisements are regulated and must avoid targeting minors or vulnerable individuals.

2. Supervising Body

The Hellenic Gaming Commission (HGC) oversees licensing, compliance enforcement, and operator conduct.

Website: <https://www.gamingcommission.gov.gr>

3. Responsible Gaming Requirements

- Operators must provide tools for self-exclusion and deposit limits.
- Players must be 21 years or older to enter casinos.
- Information about gambling risks must be visible across platforms.
- Violations of responsible gaming principles can result in penalties or license suspension.

4. Anti-Money Laundering (AML) Obligations

- All gaming operators must perform customer due diligence.
- Suspicious activity must be reported to the Hellenic Anti-Money Laundering Authority.
- Operators are obliged to maintain transaction records and comply with EU AML directives.

5. Enforcement and Sanctions

- Unlicensed gambling is strictly prohibited and penalized.
- Legal actions include fines, license revocation, or criminal charges for serious breaches.
- Promotion or facilitation of unauthorized gambling is also punishable.

6. Recent Legal Developments

Recent reforms have focused on enhancing digital regulation, improving transparency in licensing procedures, and expanding responsible gaming initiatives. These measures aim to align Greek practices with EU standards while maintaining a strong consumer protection framework.

GR Gambling Rules and Legislation in Greece

1. Primary Legal Framework

Gambling in Greece is governed by a comprehensive set of national laws, with oversight provided by the Hellenic Gaming Commission (HGC). These laws define the legal forms of gambling, establish licensing criteria, and enforce measures for responsible play and operator accountability.

Key aspects include:

- All gambling services must be authorized by the HGC.
 - Licensed casinos can operate only in approved locations, such as hotels, integrated resorts, and entertainment centers.
 - Online gambling is permitted but restricted to companies that are officially registered and taxed within Greece.
 - Aggressive advertising or marketing of gambling activities is prohibited, particularly when aimed at minors or vulnerable individuals.

2. Governing Body

The Hellenic Gaming Commission (HGC) is the main authority overseeing the gambling sector in Greece. It is responsible for issuing licenses, monitoring operators, and enforcing regulatory compliance.

Website: <https://www.gamingcommission.gov.gr>

3. Guidelines for Responsible Gambling

- All venues must provide visible information about the risks of gambling.
 - Self-exclusion programs and player protection tools are required by law.
 - Only individuals 21 years or older may access casino facilities.
 - Operators must actively support responsible gaming or risk fines and regulatory sanctions.

4. Anti-Money Laundering (AML) Compliance

- Casinos and gaming operators must follow strict AML protocols.
- Full identity verification of customers is mandatory.
- Suspicious transactions must be reported to the Hellenic Anti-Money Laundering Authority, and records must be maintained according to EU standards.

5. Enforcement and Penalties

- Engaging in gambling operations without a license is a criminal offense in Greece.
 - Penalties may include high fines, license suspension or revocation, and potential imprisonment.
 - Promotion or facilitation of unlicensed gambling services is also punishable by law.

6. Recent Legislative Developments

- Recent reforms have introduced stricter digital oversight and compliance reporting for both online and land-based operators.
- These updates aim to bring Greek gambling laws in line with European Union standards, particularly in areas of transparency and consumer protection.
